

1. Create an empty file without using text editor
2. Write a shell script to find largest of three numbers
3. Write a shell script to print given three alphabets in alphabetical order. Input should be taken from command line
4. Write a shell script to print given three strings in dictionary order
5. Write a shell script to do the following in order
 1. Check whether a directory by the name “bash” exist
 2. If not create one
 3. List all the directories
6. Write a Bash script which accepts as input your name and displays the greeting “Hello name”
7. Given N integers, compute their average
8. Given two integers A , and B , find their sum, difference, product, and quotient.
9. Use for loops to display only odd natural numbers from 0 to 99